

Hello Again

Lostprophets

Hello again, why so old?,
Wasn't time your friend? I must be told
Hello again, it seems so long
Since we last met, how has it gone?

Dont Accept the blame, I would I would not complain,
Cause I'm sure it wasnt your own fault
That you never made it out your vault
Just lock the door, and find some time to scream
To scream again...

Just say "When" and you'll stop the pain
Of your life, bring it to an end
Just say "When" and you could make ammends,
Just say "Hello",
Just say "Hello again"

Hello Again, its not that hard.
No dead ends, even with the scars

Dont Accept the blame, I would I would not complain,
Cause I'm sure it wasnt your own fault
That you never made it out your vault
Just lock the door, and find some time to scream

Just say "When" and you'll stop the pain
Of your life, bring it to an end
Just say "When" and you could make ammends
Just say "Hello",
Just say "Hello again"

You have no home, You lost your vote, Where has it gone?
Well it could all come back, but you'll be in in bed
By the walking dead,
You stumble and you crack the ground
You're pinned down.
Just Say . . .

"When" you could stop the pain,
Just Say "When", and you could make ammends,
Just say "hello", Say "Hello Again",

Hello Again, Hello Again, Hello Again, Hello Again,

It's not the end, if you just say "Hello Again..."
