

Sway....

Lostprophets

When the sun comes down
And the rain wash away
All the hopes I can bring
Into another day, another day

When the trees start to sway
And the wind makes them move
I can tell that you don't know

To all the fights I've conquered and behold
The times have changed and I will now move over slowly
Look through it all
I still feel lost without you
Hard to find a new soul
As silence takes its toll

You sway, when you are lost
Just sway, when you don't know
We sway, when all you want is to find home

As the light pours in
Feel the volume of the sky
Mark your place in time
With another question why
Tiny flickers in the night
Always looking to be right

To all the fights I've conquered and behold
The times have changed and I will now move over slowly
Look through it all
I still feel lost without you
Hard to find a new soul
As silence takes its toll

You sway, when you are lost
Just sway, when you don't know
I sway, when all you want is to find home

Just sway, when you are lost
Just sway, when you don't know
Just sway, when all you want is to find home

Woah, woah, woah, ooo ooo ooo ooo ooo {2x}
Just Sway, you sway, you sway
