I'll Know When It's Over

Lou Gramm

I hear love knockin', but I must send it away Lost but not forgotten, it just seems harder to take But I know what people say, they tell me I must go it alone If I lose you along the way, will time ever heal the pain?

Only I know when it's over, only I know, only I know When it's over, only I know I feel a heart breakin', but I won't stand in your way This love is lost, but not forsaken

We turn our backs and just walk away Now I know what people see, they tell me I must go it alone It's over you but up to me, will time ever heal the pain? Only I know when it's over, only I know, only I know

When it's over, only I know I know when it's over, only I know, I'll know When it's over, only I know Now I know what people see, they tell me I must go it alone

It's over you but up to me, will time ever heal the pain? Only I know when it's over, only I know, I know When it's over, only I know, I know when it's over Only I know, I know, when it's over, only I know
