

Stupid Man

Lou Reed

Stupid man, hitch-hiking out of a good life in Saskatchewan
And he thinks he's got big-big planes gonna build a house upon some land

Oh Casey, don't it make you crazy
oh, when you're living all alone by that damp water
Oh Casey, don't it make you crazy
when you're living all alone by those still waters

Please say hello, please say hello to my little baby daughter Oh Casey, tell her that her father's gonna be coming home so soon, so soon to see her

Well I'm shooting down the turnpike with a driver doing ninety-five or maybe more don't you think he's loaded drunk or that he thinks that life's a bore Casey, oh Casey, don't you know how it makes me so damn crazy living all alone by those waters

But please say hello, but please say hello
to my little baby daughter Please, please, won't you just give her a great big kiss then tell her that her stupid daddy will be coming home soon

Oh Casey, oh Casey, don't you know I make me so damn crazy when I was living there all alone by those still waters But please tell, please tell my baby-baby-baby daughter that I'm tied up now, but I'll be home soon and I'll be the daddy that I oughta

Please say hello, oh Casey, please say hello from a stupid man Still my little baby daughter a big-big-big kiss and tell her that her daddy will be coming home soon But Casey, don't you know I make me so damn crazy when I was living there all alone But won't you please give my, give my baby daughter a great big stupid kiss and tell her that her stupid father will be coming home soon Stupid man
