Love Spit Love

I've got to get this crossword done
Of everything you've said
All the one way conversations
Words that I forget

And it would be so easy to see
If I could be there now
I've got to write this postcard
From the place I'm standing in

But there's no signs anywhere
I can't find anything
It would be so easy to see
If I could be there now
Right now, right now, right now

I've got to paint a picture
Paint a picture of your face
But it could be anyone
And who cares anyway

It would be so easy to see
If I could be there now

There's no disturbance
Not a noise moves anything
Five hundred voices
And I can't hear anyone

Faces I can't recall
With names that I can't forget
There's no hands turning
To tell me the time right now
