

What if I lie to myself?
I bit off more than I tell
What if the grass stops growing green?
Superman, where have you been?

I don't want your talk, talk, talk long
Give it time, give it time, give it up
I don't want your talk, talk, talk
Won't give it time, give it time, give it up

I see your lines, they show your age
This day's not kind to your face
Get off my bed, put on your shoes
The world won't turn around you

I don't want your talk, talk, talk
Won't give it time, give it time, give it up
I don't want your talk, talk, talk
Won't give it time, give it time, give it up

Speak to the answer phone again
Don't tell me I'm alone again
Don't tell me God has gone
When I turn on the radio, I speak to the answer phone again

I don't want your talk, talk, talk
Won't give it time, give it time, give it up
I don't want your talk, talk, talk
Won't give it time, give it time, give it up

Don't mirror me if I can't stand
Or walk as tall as you can
Hey Superman, where did you go?
Now that the lights have gone low
