

Time And Time Again

Lovex

I've been running to let go
I've been running away from home

My knees no longer hold
But I can't stop
It's still too easy to turn

Time and time again you fade away
And I wonder how you
Still manage to beat the hell out of me

Time and time again you seem to fail
But it seems that you can
Still manage to crush my self-esteem

I'm hoping when I'm gone
You realize I'm not that strong
That I would suffocate my will to play along

And I wish you'd understand
I've sacrificed all I can
To share my soul with you

Time and time again you fade away
And I wonder how you
Still manage to beat the hell out of me

Time and time again you seem to fail
But it seems that you can
Still manage to crush my self-esteem

I got lost in the fire
I tried to get away
But the flames grew higher
Too high for me

Time and time again you fade away
And I wonder how you
Still manage to beat the hell out of me

Time and time again you seem to fail
But it seems that you can
Still manage to crush my self-esteem

Time and time, time and time, time and time again
Still manage to beat the hell out of me

yeah, yeah, yeah
Still manage to crush my self-esteem
