When Will I Learn

Low Level Flight

Woke up in a haze today, I don't recognize this face. What have I become.

Afraid to open up the door. I can't face the world no more. Where has my life gone, trying to remember when did I go wrong.

And everywhere I turn, another dead end street. When will I ever learn I will land on my feet.

I do it to myself, addicted to the pain. When will I ever learn I've got no one to blame.

Nothing seems to satisfy, the vacuum that surrounds my life. what have I become.

Cut myself just to bleed lost track of reality. I guess I'm on my own. Trying to remember, when did i go wrong.

And everywhere I turn, another dead end street. When will I ever learn I will land on my feet.

I do it to myself, addicted to the pain. When will I ever learn I've got no one to blame.

Out of control I'm spinning away I just keep hoping something might change. I'm on the edge about to break from one simple mistake.

And everywhere I turn, another dead end street. When will I ever learn I will land on my feet.

I do it to myself, addicted to the pain. When will I ever learn I've got no one to blame.

When will I ever learn. When will I ever learn. When will I ever learn. Correct these lyrics

Hottest Lyrics with Videos be4f594dcfd6803b061e9fb70400aa2d