

In the back of the van after a show,
when we know we shouldn't be there at all.
Friends are calling you and your boyfriend's waiting for you at home.

We must have a deathwish, can you remember what I said,
So the lights are off and we're alone again.
I'm not a boy that you'll forget, I'll make sure of it,
Right now I think I'm better off alone without you.

Here's the thing, when I'm home you're off on tour,
lord knows that I'd like to see you more,
But flights aren't cheap so a girlfriend in a US band I just ca n't afford.

I'm not sure if I'd like to hug, kiss or fight you.
Being lead on was such a turn off.

We must have a deathwish, can you remember what I said,
So the lights are off and we're alone again.
I'm not a boy that you'll forget, I'll make sure of it,
Right now I think I'm better off alone without you.
