

Mike Duce's Symphony No.11 In D Minor

Lower Than Atlantis

I've been pacing all the back streets, small steps, cigarette in hand, both feet barely touching the ground and I c an't find my lighter.

My mouth is dry, I'm going blind, I'm as high as I kite and I t hink I might die tonight.

I've been waiting for the first train out of this place,
but a kink in the track has put me back to the first stop.

Macaulay Culkin tell all your friends that I'm going 'Home Alon e' again,

I've got a fiver to my name, sweaty clothes and a swelling brai n.

I've been waiting for the first train out of this place,
but a kink in the track has put me back to the first stop.
