

Something Better Came Along

Lower Than Atlantis

Hold those tears
Just tell me it's over so I can get over you
All my fears
You say that you're sorry
But you will be sorry soon

I feel bad
But I can tell by the height of your shoulders
That you're glad
All along I guess
You were just another line in another song

All of those things you said
Did you mean any of them?
I needed that lift
That I got from your texts and calls
But something better came along
Now you're dead to me
A distant memory
Will you remember my name
When you're grey and old
When something better came along

Those few nervous dates
I was drinking
Before I met you so I could talk
Nothing more than mates
I was drinking throughout until I could barely walk

I'm a fool
I should've guessed by your attitude
That you're too cool
Did you care at all?

All of those things you said
Did you mean any of them?
I needed that lift
That I got from your texts and calls
But something better came along
Now you're dead to me
A distant memory
Will you remember my name
When you're grey and old
When something better came along
When something better came along

All of those things you said
Did you mean any of them?
I needed that lift
That I got from your texts and calls
But something better came along
Now you're dead to me
A distant memory
When something better came along
