

Where Would We Go

LSG

Yeah, huh
Ya know how a man gets a little cocky sometimes
I guess I did it this time baby, huh?
You're on your own

Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?
Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?

Late last night I had the strangest dream
That someone else was messin' in my cream
I tossed and turned, something wasn't right
See me and my girl had just had a silly fight

There were tears of frustration rollin' down my eyes
It hurt so bad and girl to my surprise
I called you up but you were not at home
This dream was real, now I feel so all alone, oh

Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?
Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?

Since you've been gone my life just ain't the same
I asked myself, was I the one to blame?
Sometimes in love things just don't work out
Without your love, I don't wanna live without

I had all that I wanted right here in my hands, yeah
Sometimes you lose a love, you just don't understand
If I should ever let love cross my path again
Next time I know with love, I know I'm gonna win, oh

Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?
Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?

Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?
Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?

Without your love, somebody tell me
Tell me where, oh, where would I go?
