

Through my tears

It's almost half a year
He has gone with the wind
Coming back from my school
Nobody waits for me
It's almost half a year
My friend has left
He's somewhere on the streets and I don't know where

To tell the truth
We went
Like every other day
Someone just scared you
You didn't hear
My : "Black, come back..!"
And I was hoping that
You knew the right way home
But nobody was there
And you - you were gone

Through my tears
I can hardly see
What happened
Where you are
Where you're hiding
When it's cold
Tell me why
You're not coming Back to me

The day is breaking
I am so aching and so sore
Hesitate for a while Before I lock the door
And then I'll put a bone
Next to the door
Just in case that you might
Be back home

Try to come back to me
I'm really not the same, I swear
Please don't leave me so lonely
It's not a joke and
Not a game

And I will give you all
What you would like
And I will give you
My true real love

/: Tell me why
Tell me where you are, so lonely
Where you sleep
Where you're hiding when it's cold

Tell me why
You're not coming back to me :/

Why I cry
When I think
Of you and me
