Convince Me

Lucinda Williams

Convince Me Please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

Tell me so it makes sense to me How much better it's all gonna be And please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

Tell me so I understand Talk to me and hold my hand And please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

Tell me everything's gonna be alright Even if it takes all night Please Please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me I've been in trouble and I've been blue Tell me something good tell me something new Please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

Tell me what it's all about Tell me things will work out And please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

The whole wide world is falling apart The whole wide world gonna break apart So, please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me Please, please, please convince me

Convince me, baby Convince me, baby