

To Feel In Love

Lucio Battisti

To feel in love
Is life and living
You meet someone
And you start breathing
A quietly stolen glance
Could be another chance
Don't listen if you fear
And go now that she's near

To feel in love
Is growing younger
You're not alone
No pain no hunger
Don't hide what worries you
Be what you are and do
And for a time you may
Keep loneliness away

But now but now
To really love someone
To give to take to share
It's as hard you know
As flying in troubled air
Up down and blown around
The tears and pain that passed
That's how it had to be
To feel as one at last

Really one at last
One soul I mean
To live and hold each day
So very near
But yet so far away

But now but now
To really love someone
To give to take to share
It's as hard you know
As flying in troubled air

To feel as one at last
Really one at last
One soul I mean
To live and and hold each day
So very near
But yet so far away
