Hero

Lucky Dube

Do you see the smiles on their faces After you have done what you do best Do you see satisfaction on their faces After you have blessed them it's your gift You don't think it's much But to them it means the world They wake up in the morning and wish you were there Don't have to lie to gain their trust You have never won a Nobel prize They have never seen you on the TV Your little contribution makes their lives a little bit better every day

You're a hero, you're a hero

Big it up, big it up For the fireman Big it up, big it up For the street cleaners Big it up for the man ad the woman who take care of abandoned c hildren Big it up, big it up For the grandmothers Who are left to take care of the children Big it up, big it up Wo!
