

She'll Move

Lucy Rose

First time you let go
You have no choice
I know exactly how you feel
Reaching for something more
She was out of sight
Vision blurry, outlined
We have all been there
I know just where to turn

First time on your own
No one knows where you should go
It's been a hard time
Now you're gonna see it through
He won't be with you
When the light is blinding your own eyes
It's been a hard time
It's been a hard time

The way you had her there
Not knowing if she had a chance
The way you
The way you
The way you watched her go
Just looking for a place like home
The way you
The way you

Won't you come and play?
Stay in, hotel room's cold
I see you looking out
Too scared to meet the shade
Close your eyes and float
I read the words you wrote
Someone show her love
The only song she knows

First time on your own
No one knows where you should go
It's been a hard time
Now you're gonna see it through
He won't be with you
When the light is blinding your own eyes
It's been a hard time
It's been a hard time
Now you're gonna see it through

The way you had her there
Not knowing if she had a chance
The way you
The way you
The way you
The way you

Let's get away
Let's get away

Let's get away

The way you had her there
Not knowing if she had a chance
The way you
The way you
The way you
The way you
