

Blue Sky

Lucy Schwartz

We bit our lips and walked away
Right past the scene of a crime
But we didn't have the time
To waste today

'Cause the sun burnt down the sky
While I was looking in your eyes
We're in a kingdom made of stone
And I'm the goddess of surprise

So act surprised to see me
'Cause I'm surprised you're by my side
In the city we get lost easily
So promise you won't pass me - by

Don't step aside
Don't make me cry
On this blue sky

We're floating by on a silver cloud
Watching the world take a spin
But we only just begin

To sing out loud

See you woke me from my panic
Now I'm filled with such emotion
I'm the goddess of devotion

So act surprised to see me
'Cause I'm surprised you're by my side
In the city we get lost easily
So promise you won't pass me-by

Don't step aside
Don't make me cry
On this blue sky

Promise you won't, promise you won't, promise you won't Pass me, oh promise you won't pass me - by Nothing could be better so don't ask why - by
Take me to the place with the bluest sky