

Ghost In My House

Lucy Schwartz

There's a ghost in my house but nobody believes me
There's a spirit in the dark that only I can see
And the sirens in my head are calling hallelujah
For the spirits are not dead, they've only gone to sleep

Calling the forgotten and they're coming to me
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
Calling the forgotten and they're all I can see
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
Oooh oooh

There's a whisper at my door it's strange and it's familiar
All my friends who've come before say won't you let me in
And the siren in my heart is calling hallelujah
For the spirits are not gone, they're only looking in

Calling the forgotten and their coming to me
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
Calling the forgotten and they're all I can see
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
Oooh oooh

Spirit,
Oh can you hear it
Oh can you feel it
Keep it alive

Spirit,
Oh can you hear it
Oh can you feel it
Keep it alive

There's a ghost in my house but nobody believes me
There's a ghost in my house but nobody believes me

Calling the forgotten and they're coming to me
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
Calling the forgotten and they're all I can see
Calling all the lonely souls who won't be lost for long
