

Marie Antoinette

Lucy Schwartz

When the music fades
Lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely

At the masquerade
Lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely

Wear your jeweled crown
And they can't touch you now
Place you throne so high
They won't see your eyes, crying
Wear your jeweled crown

Bought the finer things
You're still lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely

Tied to the loveless king
How you're lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely

Wear your jeweled crown
And they can't touch you now
Place you throne so high
They won't see your eyes, crying
Wear your jeweled crown

Here comes the flood
And they want blood
Take your bow

Wear your jeweled crown
And they can't touch you now
Place you throne so high
And they won't see your eyes, crying
Wear your jeweled crown
