

Butterflies

Lucy Spraggan

When I look into your face, there's no more dreaming
When I look into your eyes, there's no more words
Butterflies, long drives, in sunset evenings
Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth

Got a laugh that could catch, and a smile that Could take over my brain, in fact it has
Miss you when you're gone, and time drags on
Who knew people could fall so fast?

'Cause there's nowhere else I'd rather be
No one else I'd rather see
Controlling every part of me
I love skipping a beat, every time you speak

And no one's never made me feel this way
That's why I want to tell you every day

When I look into your face there's no more dreaming
When I look into your eyes there's no more words
Butterflies long drives in the sunset evenings
Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth

Got a body to die for, eyes that I smile for Realized you were special, the first night that I saw you
When you grabbed me, that's when you had me
Now you've got me any time, and I'll make you happy

Let's go places no one goes
Tell me things no one knows
I look at you just the way you like
So you'll know what you'll do with me tonight
And no one's ever made me feel this way
That's why I want to tell you every day

When I look into your face there's no more dreaming
When I look into your eyes there's no more words
Butterflies long drives in the sunset evenings
Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth

And I must conclude, all I see is you
I done being 'old me' and breaking all the rules
Well you could take me, show me who
I could be, and just be me with you
I want you to know all the good and bad
'Cause accept that makes me, who I am
And no one's ever made me feel this way
That's why I wanna tell you every day

Butterflies long drives in the sunset evenings
Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth
When I look into your face there's no more dreaming
When I look into your eyes there's no more words

Butterflies long drives in the sunset evenings
Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth
Butterflies long drives in the sunset evenings

Basically you can knock me off the ea-aa-aa-aa-a-arth
