

I Don't Know

Lucy Spraggan

The TV told me that I can't avoid the bad news
So I turned it off and checked my watch and now it's past noon
Take a moment take a walk outside
Send a text so I can check the time that you'll arrive
I wonder what to expect
Look at how I'm dressed
Think we'll talk about the fact that work makes you stressed
I think about the things we might say
Maybe talk about the weather or how we don't feel the same
How we don't feel the same

I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but now how I used to
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I should do
There's always a place in my heart
And you were there for me when things got dark but
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I used to

Your hands wrapped around a luke warm tea
Clinging to the heat like you used to hold me
It's so silent now but we can't speak
Caught up in the moment trying to make ends meet
I don't know what to expect
What happens next
If we talk about the fact that there is nothing left
I think about the things that we might say
So I talk about the weather not that we don't feel the same

I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I used to
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I should do
There's always a place in my heart
And you were there for me when things got dark but
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I used to

Eat your breakfast babe
This is probably the last time
Same book different page
This is probably the last line
Tears roll down both our cheeks
Bitter sweet half sick and half relieved
I wanna be there and you do too
But this is maybe something that we can't undo
You put your hands in the side of my face
Look into my eyes and I watched you say

I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I used to
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you but not how I should do
There's always a place in my heart
And you were there for me when things got dark but
I don't know how to tell you

Tell you that I love you but not how I used to

I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you
But not how I used to
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you
But not how I should do
There's always a place in my heart
And you were there for me when things got dark but
I don't know how to tell you
Tell you that I love you
But not how I used to
