i wanna letcha know while im still standing here im not hopeless but i cant forget about it no matter where i go im gonna take it you're never gonna see me lost or lonely there are so many things i'll never get to say but i know you dont care - think you can live w/ out it? i bruise so easily but it comes back to me remembering the words of what you told me

took what you needed, i am still breathin, i am still feelin th e warmth of the sun
im not gonna fade away this time and you know i gotta tell you when you do watcha do, im not done...

you made me stronger than, than im supposed to be my heart is a lot thats depending on me you're such a no-where man who'd never understand and from the very moment that you hurt me i realize you really dont deserve me you...

e warmth of the sun
when you do watcha do, im not done...

what you call love is something eles if you just want it for yourself

e warmth of the sun
when you do watcha do, im not done...

you took what you needed, i am still breathin, i am still feeli n the warmth of the sun
when you do watcha do, you know i gotta tell you when you do watcha do, you know i gotta tell you when you do watcha do, im n ot done... cuz i still feel the warmth of the sun...
