Sans Souci

Woodward, Lucy

Sans souci, ah, sans souci They got no room here for someone like me Oh, the mountains start to giggle When the springtime waters wiggle Down the mountainside I can hear the fishes swishing Just as loud as I'm a wishing When I hit the tide Go, go, go, go Go, go, go, go Sans souci, ah, sans souci They got no room here for someone like me Go, go, go, go Go, go, go, go Try to tell me I was evil, try to trample on my soul Try to make me think that they were righteous But the plot of the lie was whole Go, go, go, go Go, go, go, go Sans souci, ah, sans souci They got no room here for someone like me Ah, the earth, it starts a squaking 'Cause it knows that love is walking And it ain't no dream, no, you ain't no dream Sans souci, you ain't no dream Go, go, go, go Go, go, go, go Try to tell me I was evil, try to trample on my soul Try to make me think that they were righteous But the plot of the lie was whole Go, go, go, go Go, go, go, go Feel yourselves with all laughing and talking That used to be Go, go, go, go Go, qo, qo, qo Go, go, go, go Sans souci