

I'll Need Your Love

Luka Bloom

As the summer sun leads to autumn
There comes a time the harvest settles.
When the winding road finds it's destination
I'll need your love,
Your love and your affection.

There are white waves, strong waves
Reaching for the shore.
And I've had long days, lonely days
Reaching for, for your love,
Your love and your affection.

Blackbird, songbird
Singing through the year
Line rows lost life
Wishing me near, near your love,
Your love and your affection.
