

Once upon a time beyond the bloody skies
There was a fairy forsaken by the light
With heart full of lies and darkness in her eyes
She's sitting all alone in the forest and she sighs

She's blessed by the night nocturnal unholy night
An ancient spirit forgotten by the time
Enchanted soulless queen of forgotten lost desire
She's sitting in the forest of blood and ancient fire

Under the moonlight she's dancing
With a wicked laughter she laughs
Mistress of the darkness that mourn with the shadows of the past
Summoning all the spirit to enter in the forest of the dusk

Once upon a time beyond the bloody skies
There was a fairy with eyes made of ice
Eternal priestesses of ancient burning time
Keeper of the secret of darkness that will rise

Timeless is her beauty her eyes reflect the pain
She's crying silently her tears drops of rain
Her arms embraced the fears of sorrow and despair
Secrets serenades she's whispering in the air

Under the moonlight she's dancing
With a wicked laughter she laughs
Mistress of the darkness that mourn with the shadows of the past
Summoning all the spirit to enter in the forest of the dusk

Once upon a time beyond the bloody skies
There was a daughter the daughter of the night
Lady of the shadows of lost paradise
Where the fallen angels hopeless they lie

Untouched by the time darkness by her side
Into the black eternity she's waiting for the light
From the moon that rises and shine upon her wings
To rise from the ashes and fly into the winds

Rise from the dust of the ancient past
Bury her dreams in the ashes

There she's standing searching for the way to the crimson skies
Like a raven to begin to fly in the night

She's carrying the eternal burden...of grief
She follows the secret trails...of tears
She's breathing the last breath...of life
She lives till the end...of time

Rise from the dust of the ancient past
Bury her dreams in the ashes

There she's standing searching for the way to the crimson skies
Like a raven to begin to fly in the night...