

State Of Mind

Lunaspape

You see me with a golden crown
I never even wore
Make me not simulate
The love of your life
I wonder what for?
Someone else will wear your crown
The one I never wore

You're in another state of mind
You better not waste your time
The curtain falls, the bourbon's dry
There ain't no more
Haven't you realized my love is a lie?
Made in your mind
No one bears the weight of your love
Your crown will fall

You're in another state of mind
You better not waste your time
You're in another state of mind
You better not waste your time

You're in another state of mind
Is it fair if you're not in love?
You better not waste your time
For the crown that I need
