

Smile

Lunatic Gods

hey man you needn't cry your face can give a smile
smile...

don't wait for your darkest hour cause happiness is coming to you you enjoyed what life was giving but your smile has been stolen you have found your face and the feeling of happiness is gone again so how much time have you got?

as much as you'll give yourself stop frowning - only the life it self will show you, you aren't alone you live differently - than you lived you're searching on your own that smile there - even if you are alone the smile has come back
