Lunic

I sit on the edge of the magic bridge
Overlooking all of the carnage
Your innocence is my tourniquet
And I am still a masochist

When will this all be over?
We'll never be together
Why does the fire illuminate our future sorrow?

I see a reflection down below
Outline of a girl I hardly know
I throw a rock right at her face
Let the water take her place

When will this all be over?
We'll never be together
Why does the water saturate the dawn with sarcasm?

I feel the sun beating down on me
A scarlet dose of reality
Your shade not enough to save my skin
The burn a scar from my wicked sin

When will this all be over?
We'll never be together
Why does the scar seem worth what will become of us in the end?
