There's this black knot inside of me It can't be cried away It will stay forever part of me I accepted it one day It can't be beaten out I'm not its master, not it's friend Sometimes i think that it has gone Later when i'm on my own - i don't

Don't you try to ease my pain I need to brood, i need to cry Let me rest, let me be Let me suffer passionately I'm on a psychologic slide I'm on a melancholic ride

Walking on a flimsy rope I need "nothing" to fall With these forces i can't cope I'm interior and small At their first opportunity they attack me from the back Again i turn off the phone Feel a sudden sense of calm

Don't you try to ease my pain I need to brood, i need to cry Let me rest, let me be Let me suffer passionately I'm on a psychologic slide I'm on a melancholic ride

Leave me now, and i will rise When the darkness turns to light I'll tackle my day, climb the mountain Stay awhile, enjoy the sight Until i slide again Lunik
