

Before I Close My Eyes

Lynch Mob

i know there'll come a day, that all that will remain are only memories of the people that we knew in this brilliant life and all the sacrifices that came with a price looking back, we turned out alright

i want you to know, that i thought of you today i want you to know...before i close my eyes to sleep tonight
i think about the passing years we shared together..together

i know there'll come a day when all that's said and done the heart will pave the way for all to come. no need to hesitate. let the truth be the one that was shared today, when all is said and done

i want you to know...before i close my eyes to sleep
tonight
together..together

and i will close my eyes to always find the memory of you and i

hear what i say, goodwill to you all, we'll meet upon the fields and walk together, where ever we may go, where ever we may go where ever we may go, where ever we may go before i close my eyes to sleep tonight

together..together
together...oh together before i close my eyes, before i close my eyes.....
