

You Run Around

Lynyrd Skynyrd

Every time I think I got it all figured out Then I draw a blank and my whole world crashes down
So many people have got it worse than me
But that could change tomorrow, ain't no guarantee

How soon we forget
To count every blessing
If you think you got it bad take a look around
How soon we forget
That life is one big lesson
Still we make the same mistakes
time and time again
How soon we forget

Got a friend of mine who says he's run all out of luck
But he'll be fine,
'cause he just ain't drunk enough

The world is empty when you're slammin' those shots down

How can you be happy, son when the devil's hangin' 'round

How soon we forget
To count every blessing
If you think you got it bad take a look around
How soon we forget
That life is one big lesson
Still we make the same mistakes
time and time again
How soon we forget
How soon we forget

Just remember, thank God you're here today
If you got the will you can find a way

How soon we forget... oh, baby
How soon we forget
To count every blessing
If you think you got it bad take a look around
How soon we forget
That life is one big lesson
Still we make the same mistakes
time and time again

There's a message to this madness here my friend
Will we ever learn before the story ends

Soon we all forget
How soon we forget
Soon we forget... ooh
Take a look around and you will see

Soon we all forget... oh
Oh.. can't you see
How soon we all forget
