Day in June

Alone in the night, I sit in the moonlight I drift to my fairylands The wind feels cold in my hands And I dream of you I know the pictures aren't true I guess I can feel your soul

You visit me too Daily I have to remember The day in June, I couldn't help you Traitor screams my folk, your enemies Please request mercy Cause then you will find a quick end I can't see how they torment you

(Na na na na ...)

You keep your pride That's the last battle you fight Now your rebellion ends I know you fight for your right And for your love Stony is the way of love Some days it's covered in blood and revenge

Daily I have to remember The day in June, I couldn't help you Traitor screams my folk, your enemies Please request mercy Cause then you will find a quick end I can't see how they torment you

(Na na na na ...)

Lyriel