Carolina

Oh where you going for the two hundred and fiftieth time? Well I'm waiting for a sign Well it looks just like another line And I'm walkin backwards to the place where I come from Oh but that ain't enough no you want me to run

Used to feel like California with baby eyes so blue Now I feel like Carolina, I split myself in two Now I'm walkin backwards from Chicago through Washington Oh but that ain't enough no, you want me to run Oh that ain't enough no, you want me to run

Better watch your soul it'll leave you like a hundred bucks My friend says stick to your guns but instead I just got stuck And I'm walkin backwards lookin forward to gettin done Oh but that ain't enough no, you want me to run Oh that ain't enough no, you want me to run

Used to feel like California with baby eyes so blue Now I feel like Carolina, I split myself in two Used to feel like California with baby eyes so blue Now I feel like Carolina, I split myself in two
