

Primitive Girl

M. Ward

She's a primitive girl, she says it herself,
She cuts to the chase, like nobody else
If you say how you doin', she'll say I'm doing well
She's a primitive girl, she says it herself,

She's a primitive girl, she don't like to boast
From her natural head, to her natural toes
The girls got a lot, but they call the most
She's a primitive girl, she don't like to boast

And I'd like to think, I'm a primitive guy
I see the difference, the difference between
What I want, what I need
And a primitive girl, nah she don't need me
She don't need me

She's a primitive girl, she's setting me free
And her back's in the basics, of philosophies
She's nobody fool, I know she never was for me
She's a primitive girl, she's setting me free.
