Road Blaster

I was driving at the dawn But everywhere I go, everywhere I go I see you Calling love to the land 'Cause anything I do, anything I do Is about you

I was searching at the speed of sound And I go up and down until I hit the ground

I need someone

I was falling through the universe I went forward and reverse To forget about you

Now you get me Just another soul to break Evil is God and I'm going straight to Hell
