

Locusta

Macabre

Locusta was one of the first serial killers recorded in history

She lived in ancient Rome and her killing method was poisoning

Nero's Mother was the wife of the Emperor Claudius

She decided to hire Locusta for her killing services

A dish of poisoned mushrooms caused the death of Claudius

She was later called upon to kill his son Britannicus

Locusta was caught and paid for her crimes in a manner that was typical

She was raped by a trained giraffe then torn apart by animals
