Human Spirit

Amy Macdonald

The world kept moving and you stood still Caught in a moment against your will
And I think of you tonight

The world kept going and nobody could see
The hell that was happening, too hard to believe
And I shed a tear for you

No matter how many bombs we've dropped
No matter how many wars we've fought
It's good to see that it's not dead
Human spirit is alive and well

The people couldn't get it they said it wasn't true
How could this happen, happen to you
But we'll try our best to be home for Christmas

And all the while we're still thinking about ourselves
Worrying bout money and stressing about wealth
But there much more, much more to live for

No matter how many bombs we've dropped
No matter how many wars we've fought
It's good to see that it's not dead
Human spirit is alive and well
Human spirit is alive and well
Human spirit is alive and well
