

Life In A Beautiful Light

Amy Macdonald

How do I know when I've found my one and only and these days of searching are through?

How do I know when you love me as much as I love you?

How do you know when your life, your life is complete?

When the butterflies in your stomach sweep you of your feet.

'Cause the stars in my eyes, well they twinkle when I see your face.

And the butterflies keep flying, flying all over the place.

And the dark and grey, well it fits with the black and white.

And all I see is life, life in a beautiful light.

And all I see is life, life in a beautiful light.

Nothing can prepare me for what I'm feeling right now.

And nobody and nothing is ever gonna bring me down, down down.

No rain, no hail, no sleet, no snow.

'cause the sun always shines everywhere I go.

face... (2x)

And all I see is life, life in a beautiful light.
