

I've been around, I've been a player I've seen the world through the eyes of a slayer
So many lives, so many places
I have been since the first time I tasted true dreams of fiction pure rush and adrenal addiction but now I fear that the magic was killed by corruption

I wanna feel like that again
I wanna be a hero all over again
You're on my side or in my way
I'll blast you all to nothing anyway

Another day, another trial another month of this endless denial but now I sense

I wanna be unbound by science one world, under me somewhere undirected and free one place, unseen uncorrupted creativity

I wanna feel like that again
I wanna be a hero all over again
You're on my side or in my way
I'll blast you all to kingdom come
