

You will not repent
or right your wrongs
But we will make you

Weighed by all you've done you've learned to live and to sleep at night in spite But we are here en masse and make it right

We get off fighting evil, expose to the world
For those who are able, enlighten the herd

But we have no law no restriction no line in the sand

We are underground
A faceless breed
And we can see you

We don't forgive, we don't forget, we are Legion, above defeat
Now the world will break beneath our feet

We ally with no others
We come as we were No one and nothing in the eyes of the world
But we have the skills to undo you and too idle hands
