

Angel Wings

Machinemade God

You once had the warmth that melt the coldest hearts.
But your angel wings freeze in mid-air, shattered remains of memories lay dying on the cold and broken earth.
Sweet memories...
fading away...

As I lose you now
It broke, and broke me down.
I watched your eyes turn from seas of blue to sheets of steel,
as tears run down my bloody cheeks,
cringingly I taste the death of me.
