Let It Be Known

Mack Dime, come on Scarface, Mack demand the respect X to tha Z Xzibit, c'mon [Incomprehensible], it's true, we bang

I got trouble rhymes to a death the troubled times A double nine incase niggas get out of line And heaven knows that I tried to change But in the mist of trying to be a better man Trouble is all I can seem to see

And the fact is I know tomorrow isn't promised to me So from this day forth I'll be all I can be My brother turned his back on me Got to be my own man Regardless of what the stakes is, I'ma play my own hand

And I'm tired of being let down by my so called friends Regardless to the blood shed and no tears in the end Father, please forgive for I have sinned forgive us all But I ain't to blame the lunatics wearing my heart And I think I gotta build another wall

'Cause I don't want the world to see me 'Cause maybe these demons will try to end me I'm exhausted and my body's sleepy Never the less it's hard to rest, I'm a nervous wreck I walk with the stress

I use to walk around with a vest But now a days I be like, "Fuck it dog You fuck with me I gots to fuck with ya'll" And make ends is just another word for pay back Paying you back today for this grudge that I had way back

You niggas I grew up with wouldn't play with that I send you bitches to the morgue with holes in your head No remorse, why you think my niggas taught me to ball? 'Cause I be walking around in designer suits? In fact these niggas know that I'm the truth

Always scandalous, eye before I shoot For disrespect [Incomprehensible] there is no excuse Calling the choices No respect, respect is respect

X! Want a war? Die on, walk the line get it on Here to today, then your gone fucking with us If you talk it up, back it up, paper start stacking up Niggas start acting up, let it be known
