

Medium Unwell

Mad Caddies

in a world where logic and proportion dies the dark side laughing as it lights the night with its evil eyes it comes around when you are least expecting it to strike it grabs you by the neck and takes your soul with all its might the voices haunting me the fear is here come around and see no slumber anymore
demons in disguise
knocking at my door
a small piece of advice... ignore!
my head is hurting
my eyes are growing cold the strength increases when it fired a shot into its hold the burning version of a man whose lost his will to live the fight is over when there is nothing left to have or give
