Judgement

Made of Hate

I'm waiting in your shadow And I hope my turn will come soon I know your thoughts, what you feel I know you...

Your heartbeat is my clock And it's counting down your life, time You can run, disappear But know I'll be near

Don't you think You where wrong You did your greatest fault Now forgiveness has been gone There is no hope

Yelling voices in your head They are driving you insane Rude shadows of your past Have awaken from the chasm

Slowly I'm taking command While the Needle is heading to the end There is no time, even while In the Darkest time I will end your life

Don't you think You where wrong You did your greatest fault Now forgiveness has been gone There is no hope
