Sirens

Madrugada

With hearts below us Like rock and skin At peace with evil And all within

A shadow looms above the river And fire sweeps across the land Our bones are twisting in their sockets And even we must try to stand alone Right here alone, yeah

Fire in work beneath your skin Forever let us sleep 'Till sirens tear the night wide open And even we awake, love

Oh listen
The world is awake
Oh it's time for the towers to rise
And the blood of the engines
Heeeey alone lone lone lone
Lone with evil, lone

And alone Right here alone, yeah

Alone, oh ho oh Alone, yeah Lone, lone, lone
