

Beauty Of The Dark

Mads Langer

The beauty of the dark
is the beauty of you
I dream of dreaming dreams of you
But nightmares always block the view
I can't sleep, no

The beauty of silence
is the noise of no words When everything I listen for is here when you walk in the door tonight, yeah

Where is the light in your deep dark room?
A shock of white could save you from your shadow
Why is the dark behind the moon?
Out of reach until the light is shattered

The ugly things I do for beauty
If you could see what's real in me
Then maybe beauty wouldn't be so cruel

Where is the light in your deep dark room?
A shock of white could save you from your shadow
Why is the dark behind the moon?
Out of reach until the light is shattered

The beauty of the dark, yeah
The beauty of the dark
is the beauty of you

Where is the light in your deep dark room?
A shock of white could save you from your shadow
Why is the dark behind the moon?
Out of reach until the light is shattered
