

Breaking News

Mads Langer

When you find yourself alone Counting chaos on the phone, trading storries from the headlines In a culture fed on fear where they claim the end is near It seems hard to keep a clear mind

This is the breaking news
You really don't loose by trusting your neighbour Hope is not fading away despite what they say in all of the papers

Twenty soldiers killed today
Forty creeps that got away - it's frontpage fascination
But I saw a mom and child picking daysies with a smile
Was it my imagination?

This is the breaking news
You really don't loose by trusting your neighbour
Hope is not fading away despite what they say in all of
the papers

Turn off the evening news
It is nothing but polution Reclaim your right to choose and find your own solution

This is the breaking news
You really don't loose by trusting your neighbour
Hope is not fading away despite what they say in all of
the papers