

Half-light

Maggie Reilly

I am voiceless, I am numb
I am broken up inside
Can't see what I have begun
But the gulf is much too wide
You call to me from somewhere in the half-light
And I hear you speak my name
I don't know what to believe
I can't see which way to turn
It was easy to deceive
Though my bridges I had burnt
You whisper to me from out there in the silent night
And I hear you call my name
Call out to me from out there in the half-light
And I hear you call my name
I am voiceless, I am numb
I am broken up inside
Don't know what I have begun
The gulf is much too wide
You call to me somewhere in the cold, cold night
And I hear you speak my name
You cry to me from somewhere in the half-light
And I hear you speak my name
Whisper to me from somewhere in the cold, cold night
You cried and you called my name
You call my name
You call my name
