

No Evil

Magic!

Woke up in the morning to another perfect stranger
Jumped into the shower to wash off the situation
I can't tell the difference if I'm crying or it's raining
Either way I know that there is something in the changes

All I could think of is you in that sundress
And if there's a chance to be with you I promise

That I will speak no evil
And I will see no darkness
And I will only only hear your voice
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

Can you take me somewhere where the devil cannot find us
Rid me of the poison that has only paralyzed us
I don't want to waste another moment here without love
And I hope there still is space in your heart for me

All I could think of is you in that sundress
And if there's a chance to be with you I promise

That I will speak no evil
And I will see no darkness
And I will only only hear your voice
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

All I could think of is you in that sundress
And if there's a chance to be with you I promise

That I will speak no evil
And I will see no darkness
And I will only only hear your voice
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
Til the demons come into infect the love
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

All those... surgeon that make it in this ocean
... leave me in the sun there

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
No, no, whoa
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
